Director's Notes

Due to the success last year of Charlotte's Web, I pondered heavily about doing another show that children would really enjoy. As I was reading scripts, I made a decision which was not Charlie and the Chocolate Factory. My son Shane saw my script of Charlie and the Chocolate Factory and asked if I was going to direct this show. I told him that I had thought about it, but decided on another one. He began to plead and plead for me to reconsider. Before I made my final decision, he came to me with several ideas of what we could do with this show. He even had it cast for me! The more he talked, the more interested I became in doing this show. Then, as I mentioned this show to several people, they all agreed that it was the show to do. Hence, Charlie and the Chocolate Factory, St. John Theatre style was born. I hope you enjoy the show as much as I had bringing it to the stage and working with this wonderful cast and crew. Oh, and, of course, Shane. So, without further ado, Shane, this show's for you. Love ya, Sport!

Carpe Diem,

Mike Brooks
